Poll Selects Cardwell 1954 'Little All-American Coach'

By Keith McMillan

Fans at the Tangerine Bowl will see OU's team coached by the "Little All-American Coach of 1954."

Sportswriters and sports-casters picked Lloyd Cardwell as Little All-American Coach of the year in a poll. "Cardie" will receive the award from the Rockne Club in Kansas City, Mo., during the first week in March, 1955.

More than the quota of 100 students have registered for free room and board for the trip to Orlando, Fla.; and there is a list started for late signers in case of cancellations on the original list. Sixty-four game tickets have been sold.

Thirty-three students have signed up for the bus trip to the Bowl, and 13 have signed for train transportation. There has been only one cancellation.

Schedules and prices for bus and train trips are as follows:

Bus—$45.41 per person.
Leaves Omaha at 7:30 a. m., Dec. 29.
Arrives in Orlando at 9:30 p. m., Dec. 30.
Sight-seeing tour on Jan. 2.

Seniors Plan Class Projects

Seniors met Wednesday noon to discuss class activities and projects.

President John Cottrell announced that Senior Day will be May 20. An 11 a. m. convocation on the front steps will begin the day's activities. The banquet and dance will be the same day.

A senior special assessment of $5.50 was agreed to by the class. In addition, the graduates will spend $10 for cap, gown and diploma.

Dr. Ralph Wardle, head of the English department, and Lt. John Bantikow, assistant commandant of cadets for AF ROTC, were named class sponsors.

Senior pictures for the Tomahawk may be taken from now until Jan. 15 at Skoglund Studios. Seniors must first obtain a white slip from the Tomahawk office, then pay the $2.75 fee at the business office. The receipt from the business office must be presented at Skoglund's before pictures will be taken.

Baccalaureate will be June 5. Commencement follows on June 6.

Two Junior Coeds Win Class Posts

Elected to secretary-treasurer of the junior class in a special election held last week was Barbara Day. The juniors also elected Shirley Decker as student council member.

The late special election was necessary after results of the regular election were contested. This was a quiet election since posters and "word of mouth" were the only campaigning allowed.

Princess Candidates

Charity Tangerine Bowl Began in 1946; Known as 'Little Bowl with the Big Heart'

The Tangerine Bowl, colorful New Year's night football classic, was started in 1946. Now the Orlando, Fla., event is known as "the little bowl with the big heart," and is recognized by National Collegiate Athletic Association as the only 100 per cent charity bowl game in the nation.

On Sept. 18, 1946, a dozen members of the Orlando Elks sought a solution to the problem of raising money to help defray expenses at the Harry-Anna Crippled Children's Home in Umatilla, Fla.

These men found the answer... bringing an outstanding football game to Central Florida. The best squads of small colleges were contacted; and on Nov. 20, 1946, it was announced that Catawba College of Salisbury, N. C., would oppose Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn.

Success Since Beginning

The Catawba Indians thoroughly trounced Maryville in that first game, with a 31-6 victory.

The next year, 1952, 9,000 fans saw the Catawba Indians return to the Bowl to rack up a 7-0 win over Marshall College of Huntington, W. Va., thus becoming the first team to make two appearances in the Tangerine Bowl and the only team to win twice.

Tied Score in 1949

In 1949 Murray State College, Murray, Ky., and Sul Ross College, Alpine, Tex., battled to a 21-21 tie. In 1950 the St. Vincent Bearcats of Latrobe, Pa., downed the Emory and Henry Wasps of Emory, Va., 7-6. Morris Harvey College of Charleston, W. Va., defeated Emory and Henry, 35-14, in the 1951 bowl.

In 1952 Arkansas State defeated Stetson University, 35-20; and in 1953 East Texas State stopped Tennessee Tech, 33-0. Last year the East Texas State team defeated Arkansas State in the annual game.

Evening Chorale To Present Schutz 'Christmas Story'

The Monday Evening Chorale, directed by Dr. Richard Brewer, will present the Heinrich Schütz "Christmas Story" at 8:15 p. m. Dec. 14 in the University Auditorium. The Chorale will be accompanied by a small orchestra.

The music tells the story of the birth of Christ in oratorio form with an evangelist telling the story, supplemented by chorus groups of angel hosts, wise men, King Herod and the townspeople. Soloists during the performance will be Lorraine Coats, Eileen Brewer, Clifford Steere and George Boetel.

The free concert is open to the public.

WOW-TV To Give Bowl Film to OU

The film and transcription of the Tangerine Bowl will be turned over to Omaha University, announced Frank Fogarty, general manager of WOW and WOW-TV.

Tentative plans for Bowl broadcasts include a radio broadcast direct from Orlando, starting at 6:45 p. m. (Omaha time) New Year's night. WOW-TV will film the game and rush it back by plane so that it can be shown Sunday, Jan. 2 at 10:30 p. m. The station's Sports Director Jack Payne will do both the radio play-by-play and the television film narration.

If weather interferes, the film will be rescheduled for Monday night.

Team To Choose '55 Bowl Princess

One of five coeds will be selected by the varsity football team next week to represent the University and the city as Omaha's Tangerine Princess. The five, Janice Peters, Pat Kavan, Jackie Pedersen, Carolyn Chapman and Donna Rasgorshek, were nominated by a board of five male Gateway staff members from a list of 34 applicants.

Regents Grant Appointments, Tenure to 47

Two new department heads were named by the Board of Regents last week. It also reappointed or granted tenure for 47 faculty members.

The new department heads are Clifford L. Ellis, in journalism and Paul Crossman, in accounting.

Promoted to professor were Miss Margaret Killian, home economics and Hurford H. Davison, retailing.

Those promoted from assistant to associate professor include Miss Leta Holley, William Hockett and Rex V. Call, business administration; J. D. Tyson and Bruce Linton, speech; James E. Brock, physical education; George Wilber, sociology; C. H. Prewett, engineering and T. C. Johnston, education.

Promotions from instructor to assistant professor were Ernest F. Gorr, physical education and Miss Joyce Mintez, business administration.

Jay B. McGregor, professor of education and Dean of Student Personnel, and Assistant Professors Charles Bull, business administration; James Brown, engineering; H. W. Doss, mathematics; Robert S. McGranahan, journalism and Roy Nolte, education were granted tenure.

Reappointed for a three year term as assistant professor and director of athletics was Virgil Yelkin. Also reappointed were Professor A. V. Williams, engineering and Associate Professor James B. Peterson, music.

Assistant professors reappointed were Paul Beck, history; Herbert Berry, English; Robert Berueffy, chemistry; Miss Hollie Bethel, education; Richard Brewer, music; Edwin Clark, speech and dramatics; Stanley Davis, education and Russell Derbyshire, biology.

Robert Gaskill, music; William Green, business administration; Kilbourn Janacek, library science; C. Glenn Lewis, business administration; Donald Pfisterer, men's physical education; James Porterfield education; Guenter Schmalz, foreign languages; Paul Stageman, chemistry and Alfred Sgarman, speech.

Other reappointments went to instructors Lloyd Cardwell, physical education for men; Miss Mary Lou Neibling, physical education for women; Frank M. Paulsen, English; Stephen J. Polchert, art; R. J. Trankle, botany and J. E. Wright, art.

Council Chooses Erixon President

Senior Jim Erixon was named Student Council president at Tuesday night's meeting.

Jim was first elected to the council as a freshman. During his junior year, the speech and English literature major served as treasurer for the school organization.

The council election has been delayed this year because of the contested elections during the first semester.

Presentation of the winning coed will take place next Friday at the Band Christmas Convocation. She will receive an all expense paid trip to Orlando, Fla., for the Tangerine Bowl game Jan. 1.

Arrangements for other gifts to the Princess are being made by the Gateway, but nothing definite in this line has been settled as yet.

The team will be asked to select the Princess by judging from three photographs of each candidate. The coeds will be photographed in bathing suits, street clothes, and formal dresses.

"The Gateway hopes the team will pick the most photogenic girl," said Bill Belndorff, editor and chairman of the preliminary judging. "The preliminary judging board tried to be as impartial as five males can be under such circumstances," he added. "We judged on beauty only, from head to toes."

The selection of Omaha's Tangerine Princess is not, in any way, connected with the Queen ceremonies conducted by the Orlando Tangerine Bowl Committee. That committee was contacted regarding the inclusion of the Omaha girl in the Florida ceremony, but the proposal was denied because that contest is held strictly on a local basis.

Dr. Bail Host To Educators

Dr. Milo Bail is host today at Omaha University for the Commission on Colleges and Universities of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The regional conference for colleges and universities of North and South Dakota and Nebraska includes approximately 29 presidents of the member schools. Deans of Omaha U will also attend.

The meetings start at 9 a. m. with Chancellor Clifford Hardin of the University of Nebraska presiding. Dr. Norman Burns, executive secretary of colleges and universities commission, will give a "Report of the Committee on Planning." Dr. Burns is from the University of Chicago.

Luncheon follows at 11:30 in the faculty clubroom. At the first afternoon session, President I. D. Weeks, University of South Dakota, will preside. Dr. Bail will give the "Report of Committee on Reorganization of Accrediting procedures."

President George W. Starcher, University of North Dakota, is in charge of the final session with Dean Dayton McKean, University of Colorado, giving the "Report of Committee on Professional Education."

Attention---Veterans

Veterans may sign their monthly report forms for December on Dec. 14 and 15 because of Christmas vacation.

Miss Alice C. Smith, Registrar, requests that all veterans be sure to fill the reports out at this time.

We've Got SS-Gas Heat

By Jeanne Barton

Students and faculty alike often take the heating of the University for granted, except for an occasional complaint about it's "so cold" or "too stuffy today."

Alden Aust, superintendent of building and grounds, is the one who receives the comments, good and otherwise, about the heating situation.

After touring the lower extremities and facilities of the school, and being shown diagrams of a complicated circulatory system, this reporter is ready to take her hat off to Aust and his helpers.

Indirect Heating

Omaha U. has an indirect gas heating system without any radiators in the classrooms and offices. A uniform heat of 72 degrees is maintained in the rooms while each office has an individual thermostat which regulates the amount of air.

While an indirect system is a bit slow in starting, it is less expensive than a fast heating one.

Tunnels, running beneath the corridors of the building, are adjoined to the cooling, filtering and heating systems.

The air conditioning system cost about $385,000.

Heating is controlled by the boiler room with two large furnaces.

Troubles

Aust said that 'we have the most trouble in keeping a standard temperature in the spring and fall. It's easy to heat air or cool it down when you have a large margin to change. In winter and summer we are constantly taking in and releasing through the tower dampers 10 percent of the total air in the building while recirculating the other 90 percent.

'In the spring and fall the problem is not so simple. Sometimes it's useless to turn on the boilers or air conditioner for a small change in temperature. Close to 100 percent of the air is changed by the dampers in these seasons.

"Complications arise when the sun shines and warms one side of the building during mild weather periods. You can't add heat to one side and subtract from the other," Aust commented.

Body Heat

Walls and people in the building also are complicating factors that have to be considered in heating. Temperature must be regulated while the bodies and objects in the area give off heat.

Monday was a typical fall day. At 4:40 a. m. the boiler was started to rid the school of the cold, stale weekend air. Then at 7 a. m. the automatic air circulating system was put on and the boilers were turned off until time for night classes.

The new library will have a similar, but less complex, indirect system to fit the type of building.

Door Marked 'No Admittance' Hides 'Ears' Of School; Huntington at Switchboard

On the second floor of the University is a door marked "NO ADMITTANCE"

Behind that door are the "ears" of the school. This is where the school's switchboard is located.

The present operator, Mrs. Corrada Huntington, has been with the school in the "little white room" since 1950. She once attended classes at the University when it was located at 24th and Pratt Sts., and before joining the staff at OU, she spent 21 years as a pharmacist.

Snow Storm

Recalling her experiences as a switchboard operator, Mrs. Huntington said that one of the busiest times she ever had was two years ago during the pre-Thanksgiving vacation snowfall. The Tuesday before vacation a very heavy snow blanketed Omaha, and the school was snowbound. Students were stranded on the campus, and calls were coming in straight to the school's offices instead of through the switchboard.

Another emergency arose when the flood of '52 threatened the city. "We received calls constantly asking for workers to help on the dikes," Mrs. Huntington recalled.

Not All Emergency

All of the calls received during the day are not in the nature of emergencies, however.

Huntington ... "University of Omaha."

One of the principals at a local school calls and asks for "Auntie Frances."

Other people call up the University, and without asking for a specific department start asking Mrs. Huntington questions. She recalled that one woman wanted to know if there was a sidewalk from Dodge Street to the University.

Besides her job on the switchboard, Mrs. Huntington also writes out the statements to the Department heads each month on their use of the telephone.

Lord Scaling Ranges, Janecek Draws Floors

"The equipment will be in place in the new library by next Monday," said Miss Ellen Lord in an interview Monday afternoon.

The twinkle in her eye gave evidence that this statement was not entirely correct.

Miss Lord, head librarian, and her assistant, Kilbourn Janecek, are hard at work on scale drawings of the new library floor plans. They are scaling in all the tables and chairs and stacks that will eventually be placed in the new structure west of the main building.

New Trends

Formally well versed in the new trends and methods of construction taking place in the libraries of today and tomorrow, Miss Lord is now able to hat off such facts and figures as "there are four feet between book ranges."

"What's a range?"

"A range consists of several units of bookcases."

"What's a unit?"

"A unit equals a three foot bookcase."

And last but not least, "the longest ranges in the library are seven units long, but most of them are either four or five units."

How will this affect the students

using the library?"

Take It Easy

"Well, it is a boon for the lazier students," she said. "There is not more than nine feet from a book on the shelf to a table where the student can look it over," she added.

Another good thing about the new library is the classification of books. The Library of Congress System will be used as it is now, but all the books will be together, instead of most of them being in the stacks downstairs.

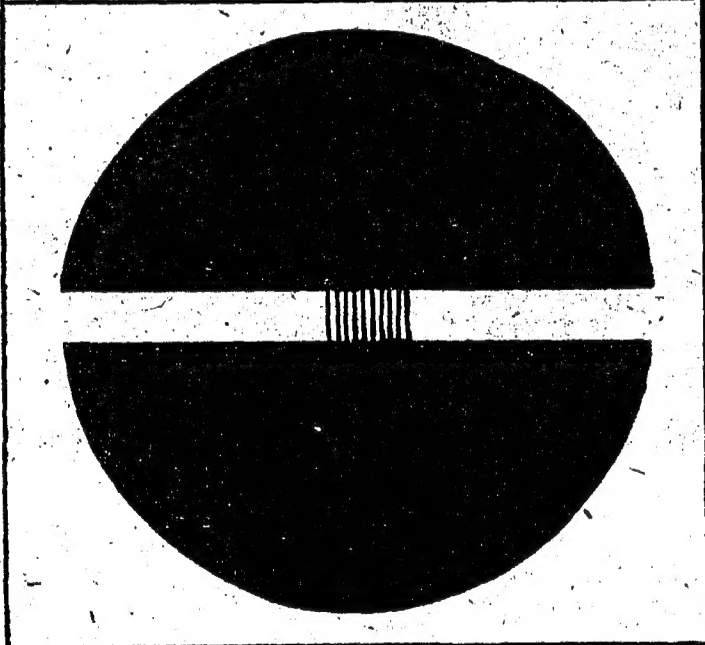

"All the books will be out in the open and we hope that it will tend to give students a better insight into just what the library has to offer," Miss Lord said.

How It Works

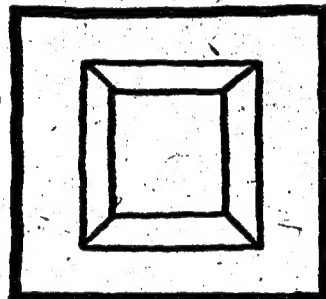

Miss Lord explained the system like this: All books on photography will be together. Thus if a student wants to find a book on just the general subject itself it will be in the same section as some of the more technical aspects of photography. This is also true of, let us say, insurance. A student may want just one phase of insurance, but he will find other phases of the business in the same place, and we hope it will stimulate his interest a great deal.

WHAT'S THIS DROODLE?

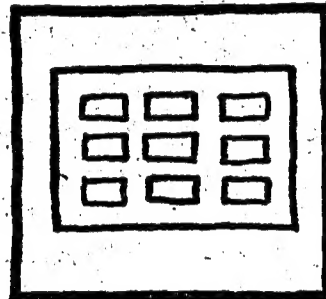

For solution see paragraph below.

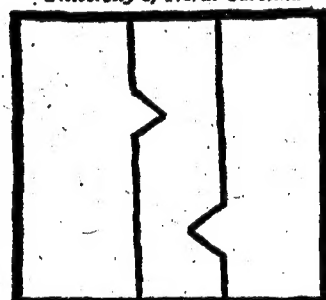

ACCORDING TO THE LARGEST and latest coast-to-coast college survey, college smokers prefer Luckies—and by a wide margin. The No. 1 reason: Luckies taste better. Thousands of students appreciate Luckies' better taste almost as much as the pair in the Droodle above, titled: Sweethearts attempting to kiss and enjoy better-tasting Luckies at same time. Luckies taste better for good reasons. First of all, Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, "It's Toasted" to taste better. This famous Lucky Strike process tones up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better—cleaner, fresher, smoother. So, enjoy the better-tasting cigarette . . . Lucky Strike.

East Kentucky State Facts, Figures, Given

East Kentucky State Normal, OU's competitor in the Tangerine Bowl game on New Year's Day night, appears to be a worthy opponent. Although East Kentucky has more buildings, the enrollment is less than that of OU. Following are some of the historical facts, figures, and services connected with the institution.

East Kentucky State Normal was established in Richmond, Ky., on March 21, 1906. The college is surrounded by places of historic and scenic interest. Some of these are the State Capitol at Frankfort, Kentucky Natural Bridge State Park and My Old Kentucky Home.

Bluegrass Country

The school is now valued at approximately $3,250,000. There are eighteen buildings and the campus covers more than 220 acres of bluegrass land.

Eastern's newest building is the Keen Johnson Student Union. This building contains club rooms for students, recreation halls, the Little Theater, student post office, bookstore, soda fountain, dining halls, faculty club rooms and a large reception room. Other buildings include men's and women's dorms, library, University building, Health Building, and the Auditorium.

Eastern Kentucky has a Rural Demonstration school which serves as a laboratory in which students planning to teach may get practical experience.

Farm Laboratory

New Stateland Farm is used as a laboratory by the department of agriculture. A large portion of the vegetables, fruits, and dairy products are used in the school cafeteria. The department also has a purebred Holstein herd.

Enrollment at East Kentucky State is 1,400. There are 850 male and 550 women students. Eastern provides personnel services, campus organizations and student publications. Publications include: The "Milestone," an annual publication by the Senior class, "Eastern Progress," which is published semi-monthly by the students, and the "Eastern Kentucky Review," published by the college and edited by the Faculty.

Still Time To Sign for Trip

One hundred people have now indicated that they would like to accept Southern hospitality of free room and board for the Tangerine Bowl Game trip. However, as of Tuesday, only 31 had paid to go by bus, and only three had paid to go by train. The Dean of Students office will take names on the list up to Dec. 15 in case someone drops out.

Students who sign for free room and board are given identification to present in Orlando, and their names are entered in the Dean of Students office according to the day and exact time they sign up.

As of Tuesday not enough people had paid to charter even one bus. Thirty-three are now signed up, but the bus company requires at least 35 before it will charter a bus. Fourteen are on the list to go by train, and at least 25 are required in order to get the special rates.

Opportunities to go by bus or railroad will be open up to and including Dec. 15. However, the Dean of Students Office said the deadline will probably be extended.

Florida Calls OU Students

For OU students going to see their team in action New Year's night, many activities will be available in or around the city of Orlando, Fla. Activities are abundant in Orlando as a mild climate makes it a year 'round playground. For students arriving early, outdoor sports will be one of the main attractions. Tennis, golf, shuffleboard, horseback riding, and especially the water sports of swimming, water skiing, sailing and boating will provide plenty of opportunity for fun.

Fishing Too

Hundreds of fresh water lakes, the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic Ocean make Orlando, Fla. headquarters for fishermen as well as water sport enthusiasts.

Sightseeing will compete with sports for the vacationing Indians' sparetime. Organized tours are available for the city and all the outstanding sights of the surrounding area. These tours are not over one day long and are offered two to four times a week.

Cypress Gardens

One of the places included in the tours is famous Cypress Gardens, where a tropical wonderland is host to many motion pictures and to the famous Aqua Maids Water Ski Show. The vast acres of well-kept orange groves and a visit to modern fruit packing and processing plants are also available to sightseers. A nearby city, Daytona Beach, is on the tour schedule. Daytona is home of the world's most famous beaches and boardwalk.

Orlando is an inland city of 51,000 located about 154 miles south of Jacksonville, Fla. The city is new and modern, as it had just 2,000 residents in 1900. Thirty-one lakes are within the city limits and flowers of all varieties bloom the year around.

Antioch Announces New Writing Review

A new national review of the best college student writing has been announced by Nolan Miller and Judson Jerome, members of Antioch College English department, and editors of the review.

The review will include sections to cover stories, poems, portions of novels, short plays, sketches, essays and articles. Material must be unpublished, except in campus publications, and must be recommended by a teacher. Deadline for the first issue is May 1, 1955. Send contributions to Miller and Jerome, Antioch College, English department, Yellow Springs, Ohio.

Public Relation Workers Busy

The football team isn't the only group exercising its talents overtime for the Tangerine Bowl game Jan. 1.

Robert McGranahan, University public information man, his staff and assistants, Bob Rasmussen, Bob Kragh, Mrs. Joe Baker, Pat Halverson and Lew Radcliff are looking for every available angle for a story about our bowl-bound team.

The Public Information department is pouring out a story a day and two pictures a week. On Dec. 13 they'll start sending a story and picture a day until the game.

Fifty-five to 60 copies of each story are made by Mimeograph. Since there are 29 radio, television, news and wire services in Florida and Kentucky that want stories, besides 13 Omaha weekly papers and 12 local radio and TV outlets.

Most of the stories are of the news-feature type. When the team starts more extensive practice, McGranahan will be able to send more straight news.

Stories have and are being written on the tackles, ends, backs, etc. as groups on Bill Englehardt and Emil Radik separately and as a combination, on the coaches, the team's brother combinations, Dr. Bail (former high school coach) and the lack of football scholarships at Omaha.

This week the team heard Carl Snively, coach at Washington University of St. Louis speak. Snively, when coach at North Carolina took teams to the Cotton and Sugar bowls. He told the team some of the ins and outs of bowl games, which they hope to profit by. The fact that Snively's teams never won a bowl game was a good angle for a story.

Even Ed Stapowich, city weather forecaster, was interviewed on his predictions for the December practice days and the story used.

Last year, Red Cross workers at military posts and hospitals helped 109,000 servicemen each month, and $8,044,000 in financial assistance was provided during the year.

It's Worth It

Have you seriously considered attending the Tangerine Bowl game New Year's night? Orlando, Fla., is a long way—over 1,500 miles—to go to a football game, but the time and expense will be worth it to see the University's own football team in a bowl game.

Many say traveling expenses will keep them from going, but the trip would not be as expensive as it might seem. With four or five riding in an auto, traveling round-trip would not be more than $20. No matter how you travel, Rollins college is offering free room and board to 100 students. Meals while traveling would average $1.50 each and would not cost more than $12 to $15 for the two-way trip. While in Orlando, the ticket to the game plus miscellaneous expenditures would be about $20. Cost for such a trip—between $52 and $55. Proportionally more, of course, by bus or train.

Granted—Jan. 1 is a bad time to try to squeeze more out of the pocketbook. Having spent money for Christmas presents and saving for second semester tuition, the pocketbook fairly squeaks with so much use at the first of the year. But think twice before you pass by the opportunity—it's a chance of a lifetime. We have supported the team throughout its victorious season—now, is no time to stop.

Alumni Gives Checks To Beindorff, Cherling

Tangerine Bowl checks fluttered into the hands of two seniors Wednesday evening.

The Omaha University Alumni Association announced it will award $50 checks to Bill Beindorff and Paul Cherling to help pay their travel expenses to and from Orlando, Fla. Beindorff is editor of the Gateway and Cherling heads the staff of the Tomahawk.

The alumni grants will enable both publications to cover firsthand the Tangerine Bowl activities of OU gridgers and other students, explained Bob Seitzer, Alumni Association president.

If either editor is unable to travel to the Bowl game on Jan. 1, his check will be turned over to a student reporter-photographer appointed by him.

Training Session Set for Monday

A training session for students interested in the Panel of Americans will be held Monday at 3 p.m. in Room 213.

Students should be preparing their presentations and should contact Professors George Wilber and Alfred Sugarman.

Plans are being made for panels to appear before Omaha high schools, church, business, service groups, and nearby colleges.

Schmalz Shows Films

Dr. Guenter Schmalz, French and German professor, showed slides of his European trip to members of the French club, Le Cercle Francais at the last meeting. The meeting was at the home of George Melhus.

Pawnee Keglers Pad Mural Margin; Basketball Begins

Pawnees own a commanding lead in Intramural bowling league standings after three weeks of competition.

The high-flying unaffiliates, sweeping through their first nine games undefeated, hold a four-game edge over their closest rivals. Average 140

The Pawnee performance is understandable: all five team members own averages of 140 or over. Jerry McAuliffe is tied for the loop high with 165. Other Pawnee keggers include Bob Grau, with a 150 average; Larry Jensen and Gailen Lillethorup at 141 and Joe Gaeta with a 140 mark.

Three teams flounder in second place with 5-4 records, four games behind the leading Pawnees. The league shows balance among the middle teams, with only one game separating eight squads. ISA is in the cellar with a 1-8 showing.

Games Nov. 18 provided a shakeup in league standings with four second-division teams engineering upsets. Pawnees extended their victory string to nine with a 3-0 triumph over ISA.

Sig Eps Down ROTC

Sig Eps, possessing a 2-4 record, toppled ROTC (3-0), while favored Pi Kappa Alpha fell to Sioux. Rudy Rotella paced the Sioux pinmen with a 187 game and 495 series.

Fourth place Lambda Chi dumped second-ranking Theta Chi 3-0. Consistent Ves Mallory led the way for victory with the day's highs, 215 and 501.

Phi Beta Chi, employing a 67-pin handicap, dropped ISA 2-1 in the day's other encounter. Paul Conrad, firing a 213 game and 494 series, zoomed 49 pins over his 110 average to pace the victory.

In yesterday's games Pawnees met Theta Chi, ISA faced Sioux and Pi Kappa Alpha opposed Phi Beta Chi. In other contests ROTC encountered ISA and Sig EP confronted Lambda Chi.

Besides holding top spot in league standings, Pawnees dominate high scoring honors. Jerry McAuliffe holds high series and shares top average with 511 and 165. Totals of 652 and 1,804 also give Pawnees high team game and series.

Ves Mallory, Lambda Chi ace, owns high game honors with 215. Paul Conrad, Phi Beta Chi kegler, is second with 213. Both games were rolled last week.

High Five Averages:

Jerry McAuliffe, Pawnees ..165
Rudy Rotella, Sioux165
Ves Mallory, Lambda Chi ..162
T. Reynolds, Phi Beta Chi 164
Jim Munson, ROTC157

Basketball Starts

Other sports will soon enter the Intramural scene. Basketball will begin December 6, with eight teams participating in a single round-robin. Two games are set daily for Monday, Wednesday and Friday with starting times at 1 and 2 p. m.

A post-season attraction will be an all-star contest, pitting an all-star team picked from runner-up teams in the loop against the champion.

Interest Slack

A ping-pong tournament is also scheduled for the near future. Ralph Pettit, Intramural head, says interest thus far has been lacking. He urges all interested in singles competition to sign up on the mural bulletin board in the fieldhouse.

'We'll Be Waiting'

"WE'LL BE WAITING" ... could be what these stars of the famed underwater ballet at Florida's Weeki Wachee Spring said after inviting the Omaha U. footballers to be their guests for a day during the Indians' coming trip to Orlando for the Tangerine Bowl game.

Famed Florida Water Stars To Be Hostess to Indian Team

Stars of the famed underwater ballet at Florida's Weeki Wachee Spring have invited the University of Omaha football squad to be their guest for the day during their coming trip to the Sunshine State, Coach Lloyd Cardwell announced Tuesday.

Take Tour

The gridders not only will have front row seats to the spectacular 40-minute underwater ballet performance, but will also go on the 40-minute boat ride through the Florida swamp with the group. On this trip the girls will point out Florida bear, deer, panther, wildcat, alligator and other unusual creatures.

The attractive excursion includes a swimming party, where the mermaid staff of 15 will serve as hostesses. The strongest drink served will be fresh orange juice!

Coach Cardwell indicated that acceptance of the invitation will depend on plans being made for the team's entertainment by the Orlando Elk's Lodge.

Announce Schedule for Indian Florida Trip

The Indian traveling schedule for the Tangerine Bowl clash with Eastern Kentucky State on New Year's night was announced Monday by Athletic Business Manager, Harvey Vogler.

Leaves Dec. 26

Forty-six players, coaches, and staff members will make the bowl trip in the official traveling group. The group will leave for Orlando by plane on Sunday, Dec. 26. The plane leaves the Omaha airport at 7:45 p. m. and will arrive in Orlando at 7 a. m., Dec. 27.

Coach Cardwell will start two-day football drills in Orlando on

Boosters Salute Indian Success

In a tribute to the undefeated Omaha University footballers the University Quarterback Club sponsored a banquet at the Fontenelle Hotel last night for the bowl-bound Indians.

The undefeated, untied squad learned all about "football bowl games" from a man who has coached three teams that have participated in the New Year's classics.

Snively Speaker

Carl Snively, main banquet speaker and head football coach at Washington University, spoke to the Indians and their special guest on "Let's Take a Look at Football."

Snively, known as the "Gray Fox," took three University of North Carolina teams to bowl games in the 1940's.

His team lost Sugar Bowl games to Georgia 20-10 and Oklahoma 14-6, while Rice took a Cotton Bowl encounter 27-13.

Selections Postponed

The team postponed the selection of their '55 captain and the picking of the most valuable player until after the bowl game.

"We didn't want a lame duck captain. End Rudy Rotella, who led the Indians to their first undefeated season in history, should have the honor of piloting the team in the Tangerine Bowl against Eastern Kentucky State on New Year's night," Cardwell said.

Iowans Stalk Deer With Bow, Arrows

Iowa Sportsmen Wednesday returned to the hunting era of Robin Hood when the bow and arrow deer hunting season officially opened at 9 a. m.

It was the second season in recent Iowa history that the hunters were obligated to use the ancient weapons while stalking their prey.

The special bow and arrow phase of the deer hunting season was set to extend from Dec. 1 through Dec. 10. The season for hunting deer with shotgun and bow was set from Dec. 10 to Dec. 12.

Six Counties Open

The ten-day bow hunting season is open in six counties. Hunting hours are from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Only bows with a 40-pound pull or more are allowed. Crossbows and mechanically operated bows are not permitted.

The gun season for deer will be open in 52 counties. Only shotguns of 10, 12, 16, or 20 gauge and short-rifled slugs are allowed.

The use of dogs, automobiles, aircraft, or bait was prohibited by the Conservation Commission. The daily bag and possession limit is one deer.

The main request made by Conservation officers was that hunters talk with land owners before entering any property to do their hunting.

Deer Plentiful

Reports indicate that local Iowa counties (Potawattamie) have an over abundance of the animal. Several have clashed with Iowa motorists in trying to cross roads and highways.

Conservation officers asked that hunters wear as much red clothing as possible, especially when hunting in heavily covered areas. No serious accidents were reported last year.

The Nebraska deer season opens tomorrow, with 4,500 sportsmen holding permits.

Traveling Cagers Vie With Simpson, Drake

By Jerry Watkins

Indian cagers will hit the road this weekend with games against Drake and Simpson. Returning to the OU campus Monday for the first home game of the season, Virgil Yelkin's charges will vie with Wayne State Teachers.

Rough Weekend

All indications point to a rough weekend for the Indian basketballers. Whether it will be a lost one depends on how well Yelkin has been able to weld his boys into a well polished team.

Although his squad did surprisingly well in the Alumni game, Yelkin admitted, "We've got a lot of work to do before we have any business on the court, with the schedule we are playing this year."

Mackie Injured

Tentative roster for the three games boasts Bob Mackie, Stan Shaetzle, Fred Shinrock, Don Hansen and Don Meade. Johnny Morse and Frank Huber top the list of reserves most likely to break into the top five.

An injured thumb may limit team captain Mackie's action during the road trip.

Split Series

The Indians split a two game series with Simpson last year, defeated early in the season by the Indianola, Ia., club 72-61, bouncing back later with a 71-56 victory.

Drake's Bulldogs beat Omaha U. 57-51 in their only encounter last year.

Monday's opponent, Wayne State, split their season with the Indians a year ago. Yelkin's cagers triumphed in the first game 66-51, dropping the second 77-85.

Sport Gridders

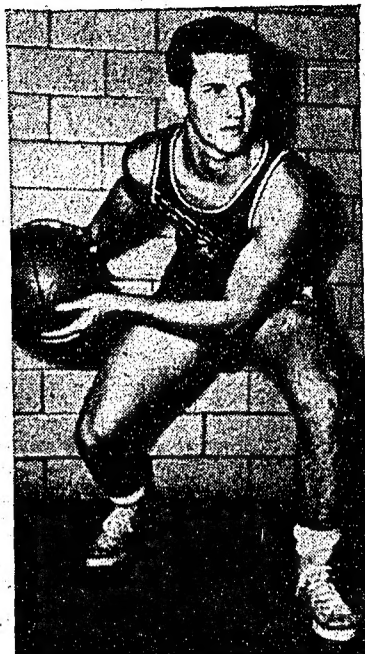

Coach Chuck Obye's Goldenrods will be troublesome opponents at the Indian home debate. The Wayne State line up includes many former gridders.

Howard Baker has quit basketball until after the Tangerine Bowl game.

OU Footballer Father

A six pound 13 ounce daughter was born last Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson at Methodist Hospital.

Johnson is the regular center on the OU undefeated football team. The baby was named Michelle Catherine. It was the Johnsons' first baby.

Bob Mackie . . . Indian captain in action tonight.

OUWI Closes Volleyball Play

Unaffiliated and Zeta Tau Alpha teams battled this week for the volleyball championships. The two teams finished the Round Robin tournament with four wins and no losses.

Other volleyball standings include Chi Omega, three wins and two losses; Sigma Kappa, one win and three losses; Independents, one win and three losses and Alpha Xi Delta, no wins and five losses.

Badminton Tournament

Draws for the badminton tournament have been posted on the gym bulletin board. First round singles and doubles matches should be played off this week.

The Chi Omega bowling team now stands one game ahead of second-place Zeta Tau Alpha.

Standings:

	Won	Lost
Chi Omega	19	5
Zeta Tau Alpha	18	6
Sigma Kappa	17	7
Independents	15	9
Chi Omega "B"	14	10

High Score

Corrine Houser holds two of this year's bowling records. Her 183 score is tops for high individual game, and her score of 501 takes first place for high individual series.

OUWI Rifle Club members will oppose Thomas Jefferson High School in a rifle match in Council Bluffs Tuesday.

First Basketball Game Originated in 1891

In the late fall of 1891, Dr. James A. Naismith was faced with a problem which came annually with the first frost. YMCA physical director, Dr. Naismith found himself unable to fill the recreation needs of the youngsters who crammed the Y's Springfield, Mass., gym during cold weather.

The traditional indoor activities of calisthenics, weight lifting and Indian club twirling didn't seem to interest Naismith's youngsters. Lack Of Enthusiasm

The problem was a common one among gym directors. Lack of enthusiasm for the average gymnasium sports lowered YMCA membership during winter months.

There was a need for some sport as vigorous as baseball or football which could be played indoors during cold weather. Dr. Naismith decided to invent one; the result was basketball.

The first game of basketball was played in the Y's small Springfield, Mass., gym in the winter of 1891. It differed little from the game we know today. Twelve of the thirteen rules that Dr. Naismith laid down are still basic.

Peach Baskets

In those early games two peach baskets, attached to the gym balcony, served as the goals. An official stood in the balcony under each basket, ready to snatch the ball out when a goal was scored. This trouble was done away with when some unknown hero decided to cut a hole in the bottom of the basket.

Played Abroad

Time has justified Naismith's faith in his invention. In this country there are thousands of teams, 1 to 4 for every gym, in competition. The cage sport is played in 75 foreign lands.

Celtics Boost Game

Credit for much of this popularity belongs to the Boston Celtics, a pioneering professional team. From 1915 to 1928 the Celtics barnstormed throughout the country, winning over 90 percent of their games each year.

ROTC Holds Final Activities Fun Night

Members of the AF ROTC cadet wing and staff held their final activities function in the Fieldhouse last Wednesday night.

Entertainment included ping pong, volleyball, basketball and the trampoline. Cadets expended energy in two basketball games which gave a hint to the ROTC potential for the coming intramural basketball schedule.

Among the outstanding performers in the evening of fun was Captain Bernard Thompson, a table tennis whiz on the regular staff.

Tangerine Opponent Boasts Impressive Season Record

Eastern Kentucky State College, Omaha University's Tangerine Bowl opponent, will enter the January 1st classic with an impressive season record behind them.

The Richmond, Ky., Maroons finished a near-perfect 1954 slate when they polished off the University of Louisville, 20-6, in the season finale. They finished with an eight-win, one-tie record. Toledo (Ohio) University was the only blemish. The Toledo squad held the Maroon and White to a 13-13 deadlock.

Dangerous Backs

Jim Hanlon, 6', 160 lb. senior quarterback, and Don Daly, 5' 10", 185 lb. senior halfback, were the biggest guns in the Eastern scoring attack. They accounted for 30 points each as the Kentucky outfit outscored the opposition 175-47 for the season. Ernie Rigrish, a 5' 9", 175 lb. junior fullback, got eight extra points to lead in the point-kicking department.

Heavy Line

Eastern has a big, heavy line. They can field a line averaging 211 pounds, and a little better than 6' 1". These big men are anchored by two huge tackles: Gary Arthur, a 6' 3", 222 lb. junior, and Karl Bays, a 6' 3", 217 lb. senior. The team, as a whole, is experienced. There is only one freshman on the varsity roster.

South Dakota Downs OU: Alums Halted by Regulars

South Dakota ruined Omaha U.'s cage debut 66-57 Tuesday night Vermillion.

The Coyotes successfully battled a determined second half drive by the Indians, who trailed 40-24 at intermission.

Schaetzle Sparks

Stan Schaetzle's 21 point rampage sparked the Omaha offensive drive, leading both teams in individual scoring.

Coach Virgil Yelkin's big disappointment was rookie center Don Meade, who failed to tally. South Dakota center Don Jongewaard, a 6' 6" mastodon, had it over Meade in height and weight. The big boy contributed 15 points to the Coyote cause.

Charity Helped

The Indians had a good evening at the free throw line, with charity tosses accounting for almost half of their total score. Schaetzle made nine of 19 and Captain Bob Mackie, playing with an injured thumb, 11 out of 16.

The game opened the schedule for both teams, with play ragged and the performance of individual players slow.

Omaha University opened its basketball season with a 68-47 victory over an unpolished Alumni team last Tuesday night in the OU Fieldhouse.

Free Throws Count

Play was ragged by both squads throughout the contest. The varsity's skill at the free throw line in the first half provided them with a 28-20 intermission lead.

The varsity cagers improved as the game progressed. Hitting only eight of 25 shots in the first half, the Indians potted 14 of 30 attempts in the second stanza.

Mackie-Meade

Capt. Bob Mackie, at 5' 10" the shortest starter on the squad, tied Don Meade for scoring honors with 17 points. Mackie compiled a perfect record at the free throw line, hitting seven for seven.

Twelve grads saw action in the traditional curtain-raiser. Don "Moe" Claussen and Bob Moscrey, mainstays in the 1953-54 campaign for the Indians, were high point producers with twelve and eight counters, respectively.

Bob Rose, named most valuable player for Omaha U. in 1953, also participated in the skirmish. The Alumni team was piloted by former basketball coach Don Pflaster.

In the preliminary game, the Reds downed th. Whites 67-48. It was an all-Papoose duel.

Formal Season Swings Into Step at Christmas

The formal season is swinging into step with a great variety of colors and styles to capture any girl's interest. Formals ranging from light, foamy colors to bright splashes of holly green and lipstick red are being shown in local department stores and fashion magazines.

White Remains Popular

White remains ever popular with gowns being shown in every fabric and style from ballerina-length winter cottons to floor-length dreams of layer upon layer of net or tulle over taffeta or satin.

Velvet in black or white heads the list for evening wraps. Bolero-type or waist-length jackets with bracelet-length sleeves and deep cuffs are popular. And velvet stoles, some of them trimmed with satin fringe or binding, are being used as a substitute for knitted ones.

Faille and velveteen or velvet full-length coats are in style, and for girls who want that extra luxurious feeling, heavy satin floor-length wraps are the answer.

Glove Styles Vary

Dress gloves vary in length from below-the-wrist to midway-to-the elbow lengths and are trimmed with pearls or velvet. Materials vary from nylon and cotton to the always-correct white or pastel kid leather.

For that final touch, a velvet, brocade, beaded or sequined purse and the new shoulder-length rhinestone earrings will give that added "something" to an already perfect costume.

The Rockefeller Brothers have donated a substantial sum of money for the Rockefeller Brothers Theological Fellowship Program.

This program is designed to give exceptional young graduating seniors or recent graduates who are uncertain about their vocation a chance to devote one year to theological study to possibly enter the Protestant ministry.

Anyone is eligible who has a genuine doubt about his career and might be interested in being a minister.

However, no one can apply or nominate himself. A university or college professor, clergyman or some other qualified person may nominate the student. The executive director of the program who is at Princeton will send the nominee an information blank and would like to visit the student on campus.

The amount of the grant is not fixed. It is determined by the needs of the particular student and the cost of the school he attends. However, the grant is adequate to cover a year's work at any theological school that is accredited in the United States or Canada.

Dean of Students Jay B. MacGregor has received a letter from the executive director who will be glad to visit any student at our campus. Plans are underway to find a student who might be interested in the program.

Local personalities playing an active part in the three day program include Lawrence Robinson and Hollis Limprecht of the World Herald, Floyd Kalber of KMTV, and Jim McGaffin of WOW-TV.

The national presidents of each organization, Loren Hickerson of the AAC and Francis Pray of the ACPRA, will address the joint meeting. Hickerson is alumni director at the University of Iowa, and Pray is public relations counselor at the University of Pittsburgh.

Choral Group Readies List For Christmas

Once each week, a select group of 20 voices has a musical get-together "just for the fun of it." This group is the University madrigal Singers directed by Dr. Richard Brewer.

The singers specialize in singing madrigals, originally lyric poems from Italy set to music. Now, however, madrigals come from Germany, France, England and even America. But the most popular are the English madrigals of the Elizabethan era. Madrigals are sung just for fun and often contain nonsense syllables and laughing passages.

This Christmas season, as in the past, the madrigal singers are performing throughout Omaha a "polished" program of Christmas carols.

On Nov. 29, the second day in Advent of the Christmas season, the Madrigals presented their first program at the Omaha Woman's Club and, said Brewer, "were very highly received."

Other performances by the Madrigals this Christmas season will be at Dundee Presbyterian church, Trinity Cathedral and at KMTV, Dec. 11 when they will be on the "Doors of Knowledge" program.

Corner Stone Laying Delayed

"We've made up about two weeks of the 30 days we lost due to the rainy season," said Carl Johnson, field superintendent for John Latenser and Sons in regard to progress on the new library building.

Johnson made the statement at the weekly breakfast meeting of the Library Committee Wednesday.

He also commented that the construction work is ahead of schedule in some areas and behind in others. He added that this is to be expected in a job the size of the library.

Charles Hoff, vice-president in charge of finances, announced that the corner stone for the new building will be laid sometime after the first of the year.
